teams as a whole, went above and beyond the framework of the league.

For example, says Mr. Daniel, "One team stayed an hour and a half past their standard one-hour activity time to help an elderly couple pack and move. Another team not only filled in for a team who couldn't make their Thursday evening activity due to a calendar conflict, but they also eagerly pulled double duty, executing their own scheduled activity that same Sunday. These examples underscore the mission of the league, as the hope is the chassadim extend far beyond any particular season or year."

Looking forward, the Chesed League is also interested in creating a girls' division and have begun discussions with some community mothers who have expressed an interest in taking the lead on that initiative.

In addition, said Mr. Ziffer, "Although the Chesed League concept originated in Baltimore, we would love to see it replicated in other communities. We would be more than happy to share our experiences, lessons learned, and suggestions with any other communities that are interested in launching a similar program."
